

The Freedom of Information Act 2000 provides public access to information held by public authorities who are obliged to publish certain information about their activities from whom members of the public are entitled to request recorded information. This information includes:

1. Documents
2. Computer Files
3. Letters
4. Emails
5. Photographs
6. Sound or video recordings

The purpose of this scheme is to make the maximum amount of information readily available at minimum inconvenience and cost to the public. Material which is published and accessed on a website is free but a charge will be made for photocopying and postage.